

MANAGER: DISCOVERY SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY CENTRE

Inspire scientific curiosity ... Join the team at Discovery!

Discovery is a not for profit organisation that is committed to inspiring scientific curiosity by promoting the wonders of science and technology in an interactive, informative and entertaining way. The primary objective of the Manager is to undertake the management of all day-to-day operations of the Centre, conduct staff training and create programs and activities that will develop Discovery in line with its Strategic and Business Plans.

The successful applicant will have:

- A degree in science or education (or another relevant qualification).
- Ability to liaise with and develop networks with a range of institutions and individuals; previous experience with schools would be particularly useful.
- Passion for science communication.
- Experience in team leadership and working with staff and/or volunteers.
- Well developed written, communication and presentation skills.

Please obtain a position description by calling Faye Gair on 5443 8117 or download a copy online at www.discovery.asn.au

Applications close 5pm
Friday 11 January, 2013