

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A Cast of Thousands, Australia's leading television Casting Directors are on Australia's first ever nationwide hunt to uncover new personalities to be involved with Foxtel's factual content, for both local and international documentary series.

Kirsty de Vallance, co-founder of A Cast of Thousands says, "We are looking for professional men and women from a wide range of scientific academic backgrounds. We are here to uncover the most passionate, experienced and authentic people we can find."

The fields of scientific expertise can be as specific or as general as your qualifications allow. Some examples of the areas A Cast of Thousands are keen to see people from include, but are not limited to;

- Engineering
- Geology
- Marine Biology
- Astrophysics
- Archaeology
- Criminology
- Medicine

"We are looking for people who are passionate about their field, who would be interested potentially in an on camera role, who can take someone unfamiliar with their world on a fantastic voyage of discovery. You don't need to have had experience in front of the camera, or have been on television in the past. Everyone has to start somewhere, and we are looking for Australia's most intriguing experts, nothing more, nothing less" Kirsty adds.

Apply today at www.expertbank.com.au Applications close 5pm (AEST) Friday 11th July, 2014.

For more information, call Kirsty on (02) 8411 1045 or kirsty@acastofthousands.com.au

FOXTELTM

